

Writing / Blogging Intern – Write Awesome Stories For and About America’s Veterans

Project Title	Writing / Blogging Intern – Write Awesome Stories For and About America’s Veterans
Project Summary	Help VA’s Digital Media Engagement team create informative and thought provoking posts about and for our American Veterans for publishing on our VAntage Point blog http://www.blogs.va.gov/VAntage and our various social media platforms.
Country	United States

Project Description

If you looking to take your writing skills to the next level, consider joining one of the federal government’s most successful social media teams – VA’s office of Digital Media Engagement. DME is a small, flexible group of professionals that value innovative ideas and out of the box thinking. As a Writing / Blogging intern, you will learn the fundamentals of operating in a cabinet-level agency while reaching out to upwards of 21 million Veterans and their family members with important information about compensation, health care, education and other benefits. At the Department of Veterans Affairs, you’ll have plenty of work to both hone your skills and contribute to the team’s success. Apply today to join a team where your ideas will be explored and your opinions appreciated.

As a Writing / Blogging Intern your typical work assignments may include:

Writing news articles, feature articles, blogs, and other communication products, intended to inform Veterans, their family members and the public on matters affecting their daily lives from health care and insurance to monetary compensation and suicide prevention. Producing top-quality content for the Web and social media in a fast-paced, exciting environment. Or even telling the stories of amazing Veterans both present and past by writing up posts for our Veteran of the Day section <http://www.blogs.va.gov/VAntage/category/veteran/>.
